

Gallery Newsletter February 2018

Hello and Winter Greetings !

We have been so fortunate to begin the year with a quiet note ,on the weather front. It somehow makes all our aspirations seem alot more achievable unless of course we are in training for an Arctic adventure! And oh....this winter light. But as I write, there is rougher stuff looming . Still winter . And for some a chance to engage in artistic endeavour without feeling pulled in other directions.

2017 ended on a good note too , with a steady flow of visitors right up until 30th December. Given the Centre is open only 12 hours a week through the winter season we still benefit from the Tourist season gradually stretching . That old question ‘ What do you do in the winter ? ’ is increasingly redundant !

The rich pool of makers & artists in this area just seems to expand and we are hoping to add some new names to our walls this year. If you are not able to call by the Centre , please send your friends and visitors.

Look out for some well kent and new faces in our interview features. We are also planning to share in a little more detail some of the techniques and skills undertaken by some of our artists. We hope you have enjoyed the indepth interviews of recent years . Previous Newsletters can all be found on the Centre’s website on the Exhibitions Page .

But please come and visit, so much to see .
